

FRENCH

What YOU will learn:

Your French major through the Department of Modern Languages and Literatures will move you to acquire proficiency in the use of the French language. Small classes and a dynamic teaching staff will take you to the heart of one of the world's richest civilizations. The cultures of France, Québec, and the countries of French-speaking Africa and the Caribbean all use the French language to express astonishing diverse social, literary, and cultural identities. The French faculty at UNL is an especially active group that has all been recognized for their teaching and for the national and international scope of their research.

Since language is crucial to the understanding of history and culture, your core courses will impart a grammatical, syntactical, and cultural proficiency enabling you to adapt to an increasingly diverse world. In addition, you can elect to enroll in courses such as French Literature in Translation, French for Business and Commerce, French Literary Treasures of the Middle Ages, French Phonetics, Aspects of Francophone Civilization, Literature in French Canada, and many more!

Career opportunities YOU will have:

As a French major, you will receive a broad general education making you an attractive candidate for a wide range of career opportunities. When combined with interest areas, you will be equipped for pursuing a career in areas such as government service, business, the travel industry, journalism, law, or health care. Employment of recent Nebraska graduates majoring in French include:

- Bilingual Interviewer, University of Nebraska Medical Center
- French Teacher 9-12, Duchesne Academy High School
- Secondary English Teaching Assistant, TAPIF
- Teaching Assistant, French Ministry of Education
- Volunteer, Peace Corps

Why NEBRASKA for French?

Take advantage of our newly renovated language lab where you can collaborate in an open setting, sharpen your skills using the iPads provided, or watch streaming global news and programming. You are also encouraged to join like-minded students and practice your conversation skills at Table Française which meets weekly to discuss current events, French culture, and colloquial language.

Study abroad is crucial to your program, preparing you to become a citizen of the world. What could be better than studying French in France? Live and study in Montpellier, one of France's fastest growing cities and an emerging cultural and educational center. Or maybe you will choose to immerse yourself in the French language by taking courses at the Université Catholique de l'Ouest's CIDEF (Centre International d'Études Françaises) and living with a host family in Angers for the month of July! Whether you want to complete your basic language requirement, speed your way to a major or minor, or simply broaden the horizons of your study of French, we have a program that will suit you.
