

GERMAN

What YOU will learn:

Your German major through the Department of Modern Languages and Literatures will move you to acquire proficiency in the use of the German language, and enroll in courses on German culture and literature; combining growth, personal challenge, and life experiences. You will be drawn into different cultures around the world, where you will connect with them not just intellectually, but personally.

Since language is crucial to the understanding of history and culture, your core courses will impart a grammatical, syntactical, and cultural proficiency enabling you to adapt to an increasingly diverse world. In addition, you can elect to enroll in courses such as German Literature in Translation, German for Business and Commerce, German Civilization, History of the German Language, Romanticism, German Literature and Philosophy, Postwar German Literature: The Literature of West Germany, Austria, and Switzerland, and many more!

Career opportunities YOU will have:

As a German major, you will receive a broad general education making you an attractive candidate for a wide range of career opportunities. When combined with interest areas, you will be equipped for pursuing a career in areas such as government service, business, the travel industry, journalism, law, or health care. Internships and employment of recent Nebraska graduates with a major in German include:

- 2nd Lieutenant, United States Marine Corps
- Engineer Officer, US Army
- German Teacher, Papillion LaVista South High School
- Translator, Private Small Business
- Social and Media Intern, Nebraska Domestic Violence Sexual Assault Coalition
- Writer, Political Communication Firm

Why NEBRASKA for German?

Take advantage of our newly renovated language lab where you can collaborate in an open setting, sharpen your skills using the iPads provided, or watch streaming global news and programming. You are also encouraged to join like-minded students and practice your conversation skills at Stammtisch, the German Table, or German Lunctelenovelaklub which meet weekly. In addition, the German club, Lincöln, strives to showcase German culture and tradition to the campus community through student-organized event giving a preview of Germany's past, present, and future.

Study abroad is crucial to your program, preparing you to become a citizen of the world. What could be better than studying German in Berlin? Take part in a semester long immersive language experience where you'll have the opportunity to live with a German host family in one of the most exciting cities in Europe. While you are there, visit famous sites like the Berlin Wall Museum, the Charlottenburg Palace, and the Botanical Gardens and Berlin Zoo.

Picture yourself engaging in research similar to our current students who are conducting projects with our Undergraduate Creative Activities and Research Experience (UCARE) program and getting paid in the process. Examples of recent work include titles such as Foreign Language Vocabulary Acquisition in Our Modern World; and The Evolution of Clerical Marriage in 16th Century Germany.
